Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Wednesday 31 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright start in the south. Cloudy and cold in north.

Today:
A bright start across central and southern Scotland, the best of the sunshine through the Borders and Southwest. Cloudy and cold in the north with outbreaks of rain, this nudging south. Turning brighter over the Northern and Western Isles.

Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with patchy light rain during this evening, but drier and clearer conditions in the north will develop widely overnight. Chilly where skies become clear with frost possible.

Thursday:
Dry and bright with some sunny spells, the best of the sunshine expected in the west. Chilly around North Sea coasts, but feeling pleasant in any sunshine, winds mostly light.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Mainly dry and bright on Friday and Saturday. Feeling quite warm in any sunshine, but a risk of frost at night. Colder with rain clearing to wintry showers on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.